THE RIGHT PLACE, THE RIGHT TIME

REF. Emotions, which leave memories for life.

FOR « DISCERNING TRAVELLERS ».

Beaumier has a ring to it. Round and lively, familiar and distinctive, the name of this 19th century explorer makes a mark. Little by little, so do our holiday destinations. Far from the hustle and bustle of the big cities, routines fade away and an authentic closeness to nature prevails through memorable experiences.

A NAME

A name that supports our expansion in Europe, inspired by French explorer, Auguste Beaumier, a geographer and writer. A name that sounds beautiful, generous and French, where it takes its origins.

A SYMBOL

A new logo, inspired by luggage tags and travel memorabilia.
A symbol that speaks to our two anchors, the mountains and the sea.
A stamp of approval, a badge of quality.

And a signature.

We believe that true hospitality is about combining...

Authenticity and experiences to create emotions.

We create hotels full of life and soul by anchoring them in their local culture and environment, celebrating what locals do best and focusing on quality.

We create exceptional experiences to help our guests make the most of the surrounding nature and culture, deepening their understanding and creating life-long memories.

With a sense of heritage, we invite guests to enjoy life to the full, to celebrate every moment and foster deep connections.

PLACES FULL OF AUTHENTIC STORIES, RICH IN EMOTION.

BEAUMIER TOLD BY ÉRIC DARDÉ, CEO

Since he was a young man starting out in hospitality, Eric Dardé has been driven by the art of service, first as a sommelier, then as a barman, a waiter and a hotel general manager. His desire to learn, his dedication to teamwork and his curiosity all enabled him to grow into more strategic and responsible positions. Driven by his entrepreneurial spirit, he embarked on the first chapters of Beaumier in 2011, before officially launching the brand in 2021.

What is Beaumier?

Beaumier is a lifestyle hotel with a human face; our properties stretch from the snowy peaks of the Alps to the seashores and countryside of exceptional European leisure destinations. During a stay with us, we want guests to reconnect with the essential things in life: nature, wellbeing and people. Our journey began in the mountains, and in each destination we honour our original vision of luxury: to offer a soulful experience in extraordinary natural environments.

Who is involved in this group?

Based on my vision resulting from 30 years of experience in hospitality, our Beaumier family encompasses people of all backgrounds, ages and professions – not only our operational staff including front of house, talented chefs, spa managers and barmen – but also the local producers, ceramists, artists, painters, landscapers, mountain guides and yoga teachers who all share our vision.

What are the values that drive you?

Respect. Respect for the place, its natural environment, its inhabitants, its cultures and traditions. We are its custodians. Excellence too, whether that be the service offered the moment you step in the door, through to the details that make up the experience such as the bedding, building materials, experiences and meals. Sincerity is important too. There is no modelling or standardisation at Beaumier. The history of each destination sets the tone. These destinations are precious and require respect for their environment, local commitment, ethical economics and virtuous social practices. Finally, simplicity – it is the pleasures of everyday life that move us.

What are your ambitions?

To continue to offer guests the most beautiful leisure destinations in Europe, in the mountains, by the sea and in the countryside. As curious travellers, our guests are constantly asking for new places to explore. This entails acquisitions, developments and optimisations, all in line with our values, with measured growth in order to remain a group of boutique hotels on a human scale. We are currently working on the upcoming launch of three Beaumier hotels: two in Switzerland in Wengen, and one in Spain in Ibiza. At the same time, various developments at Capelongue will enable us to offer a new approach to the hotel business through our version of a Provençal holiday village.

CHEFS' PORTRAITS

ALEXANDRE BAULE

Alexandre Baule's journey from his native Isère to L'Alpaga – from Baux-de-Provence to Cannes, via Paris – has been filled with the highest standards and constant creativity. Which makes him perfect for Beaumier. Trained in renowned establishments, he took over the head of the kitchens in Megève in 2022 and confirmed his ambition to go even further. This lover of fine products, crowned with a Michelin star in 2023, for his restaurant «La Table de L'Alpaga», knows how to combine authenticity and modernity. He likes to tell beautiful gourmet stories, around a living ecosystem, inspiring and inscribing it in an ever more responsible approach.

His cuisine is primarily based on taste at the Bistrot de l'Alpaga and a more classic, authentic and personal version at La Table de l'Alpaga.

JOSÉ BAILLY

Hailing from his native Finistere to working on the shores of the Mediterranean, Jose Bailly has forged a passion for coastal produce. After working in some of the great Parisian and Savoyard restaurants, he joined the Beaumier team and works at Les Roches Rouges.

This lover of the region, crowned with a Michelin star in 2018, for his restaurant «Récif», also offers true Provençal cuisine in «La Plage» restaurant, notably red mullet, pine nut tarts and beef stew. Through his cooking, he pays tribute to his life experiences and to the people he has met along the way. Gastronomic and contemporary cuisine on the one hand, simple and timeless on the other, traditions and the region guide him.

NOËL BÉRARD

His career, which has taken him from one of France's top restaurants to another, has forged a cuisine that is in tune with the times, both rooted and attentive to their needs. After spending a few years in Hong Kong, then with Edouard Loubet, he took over the reins of the Capelongue restaurants to add his own touch and vision of cuisine. The restaurant «La Bastide» was crowned with a Michelin star in 2022.

His pragmatic approach to cooking is in tune with the times, without forgetting the heritage of the region and the place. From the asparagus of Villelaure to the truffles of the Carpentras market, via the lamb of Sisteron, the trout of the Sorgue, or the homemade olive oil... He draws his inspiration from the land and the cycle of the seasons, combining spontaneity with respect for the products.
